In 1999 the Power began with just two teams and a dream. In 2010 the Pittsburgh Power will be celebrating its 12th season and will field over 20 highly competitive teams. For eleven years the Power has been providing the opportunity for girls in western Pennsylvania to play at the highest level of tournament softball.

The program is 100% focused on the players. The organization concentrates on providing a positive and safe playing environment. The Power has its own indoor 24/7 facility for their players and teams to use, providing year round practice time. There are no paid staff, board members, or coaches. All managers and coaches are required to have their state child clearances and a criminal background check. Coaches, players and parents sign a code of conduct.

The Power brings in the worlds best Olympic and professional players to work with our girls. In the past we have brought in Dot Richardson, Jenny Finch, Natasha Whatley, Tairia Flowers and Cat Osterman. In May 2008 the organization brought in the entire Olympic team as part of their Bound for Beijing pre-Olympic tour.

But all this comes with a price. The player fee for 2010 will be $690.00. While this may sound like a lot, compared to other organizations our fee can be hundreds less. Success like this can only continue with the help of sponsors. Sponsors play very important roles in the Power organization. Power players are seeking sponsors for it's 2010 season.

By directly sponsoring a Power player you can help them defray the additional costs associated with playing travel ball. A player can use your sponsorship dollars to help offset their player fees or use it to cover travel costs. To participate and sponsor a player directly just fill out the following form and return it to the address shown. The money will be directly deposited into the players account and made available for their use.
